1. PURPOSE

“SHINGEN, THE RULER” is a territory-conquering simulation game based on Japan’s turbulent age of the samurai. The player is Takeda Shingen and his son Katsuyori, and they try to rule all 21 territories by conquering other feudal lords (daimyos). Takeda Shingen starts with Shingen conquering the two territories named Kai and Shinano, in 1545 when he was 24 years old. Though he conquered Shinano, the territory’s status is still very unstable as it is surrounded by other strong enemy territories, so the situation is not good at all. Whether or not Shingen can rule Japan completely by conquering all 21 territories depends on your playing skill.

2. TO START THE GAME

Press the start button. Select "Continue" with the select button and press the start button, and the game can be resumed with the data saved.

If you select "On", both music and sound effects operate. If you select "Off", only the sound effects operate.

Move the cursor with the + key, select On/Off, and make decisions with the "A" button.

TO SAVE AND END THE GAME

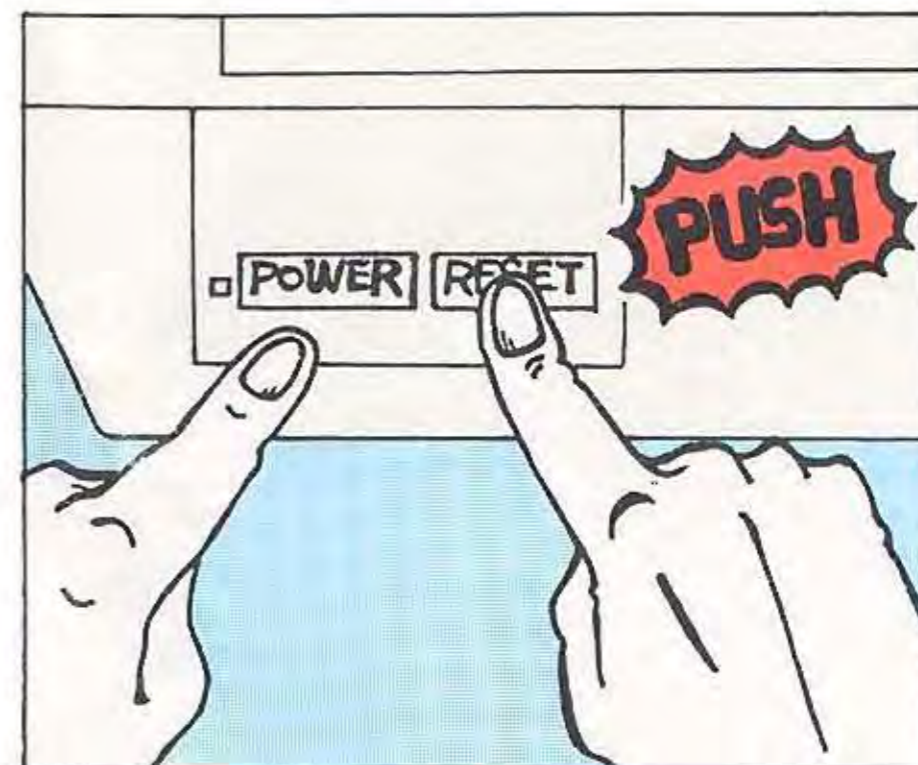

If you select the “Save” command, the ongoing game data is saved. Once it is saved, all previous data is lost, so please be careful.

If you select the “Save” command, you can start the game again from the point you saved by pressing “Continue”.

When you make a command, it means one month has passed in the game (this is called a “turn”, but a turn is not used when making the “Save” command, so another command can be selected after saving).

In a month in which SHINGEN moves to another territory, saving cannot be done.

When you have finished a game, be sure to hold in the “RESET” Button while you turn the power off.

Build up your military

Statecraft policy

Field fight

The siege of enemy's castle

Occupy enemy's territory

Gain rank, experience,

BATTLE MODE

This game is divided into a domestic administration mode and a battle mode. First, enhance the territory's power with the domestic administration mode, then expand the territory by conquering an enemy territory using the battle mode.

Domestic administration mode

Strengthen the domestic administration using 12 types of commands. The condition of the territory is indicated by 19 types of parameters. You can rule, at most, three occupied territories in a month (except home territory)!

Battle mode

Lead six types of soldiers, destroy the enemy's headquarters (12 units maximum). There are two types: normal battle and automatic battle. If you win an open-air battle and a siege battle, you can control a territory.

5. INDICATORS OF A TERRITORY'S CONDITION (PARAMETERS)

YLD	20	$$$	200
DST	65	PRD	200
CLT	30	E-M	1
LOY	30	PRI	0
WEL	28	EPI	NO

Always be aware of the prosperity of each territory!

YLD (yield)

Indicates the amount of products harvested in the territory. As the yield becomes higher, the October harvest increases and more infantry can be enlisted. Use Fa (farm policy) - DEVELOPMENT to increase YLD.

DST (disaster)

Unlike the other parameters, the lower this number the better the preparations for disaster. Use Fc (flood control) to decrease DST.

CLT (culture)

Indicates the level of civilization. The higher the level, the better the annual harvest, the lower the price of medicine, the less likely epidemic disease is to occur. Use Ca (castle) to increase CLT.

LOY (loyalty)

Indicates how faithful the people of the territory are. A higher number means a larger infantry and a lower likelihood of domestic rioting. Use Fa

(farm policy) – AID to increase LOY.

WEL (wealth)

Indicates how prosperous the people of the territory are. The higher the number the more stable the life of the people, and it affects the prices of the things selected by the “merchant” command. Use Fa (farm policy) to increase wealth.

$$ (money)

Indicates the amount of money the territory possesses. It increases every month according to the number of gold mines (G-M). Money is obtained from collecting annual tributes and battlefield victories (trophies of war).

PRD (product)

Indicates the amount of rice owned. Rice is the main food of Japan and very valuable, thus it can be changed into money by selling it to merchants and can be increased through events like the collection of annual tributes in October and battlefield victories (trophies of war). Minimum 5 PRD are needed to enter battle.

G-M (gold mine)

Indicates the number of gold mines discovered. $$ increases 5 units every month per G-M. The ease of mining varies among the territories and decreases due to mine cave-ins. Use Gm - DIG to increase gold mines.

PRI (princess)

Indicates the total number of princesses. Princesses are able to help make alliances with other territories.

EPI (epidemic)

Indicates if a bad epidemic disease is prevalent in the territory. When an epidemic occurs, the infantry size and wealth is reduced, but will naturally disappear in December. Use Dr (doctor) to resolve epidemic.

ACTUAL STRENGTH OF SHINGEN'S UNIT
(255 UNITS MAXIMUM PER EACH CATEGORY)

HE	NO
RNK	0	EXP	0
HDQ	50	CAV	45
RM	35	AR	37
LNC	40	INF	45

HE (heir)

Indicates the educational level of the heir. The educational level affects the situation after inheritance, and the higher this level the better. This level is classified in ST (strength), IQ (intelligence quotient), and MO (morality) and its influence after inheritance varies according to the balance among the three. The level may be lowered by a disturbance due to an enemy's rioting or negligence in education. 300 units maximum in this category.

RNK (rank)

Indicates the actual strength of the army of the territory. The higher the number, the stronger and more experienced the army is.

EXP (experience)

Indicates the degree of battle experience of the soldiers. Experience is obtained by defeating an enemy in battle, and the RNK advances as more experience is accumulated.

HDQ (headquarters)

Indicates the number of armed units with a Field General. They have the strongest attacking and defending power, yet with only average power to advance far forward. Without HDQ you cannot enter battles. If HDQ is destroyed, the battle has been lost even though other units may be surviving elsewhere.

CAV (cavalry)

Cavalry armies have high attacking power and moving forward power. As their movement range is wide, they are optimal for attacking an enemy's HDQ or for attacking the enemy from behind by flank movements. Buying CAV from Mr (merchant) will change INF to CAV.

RM (riflemen)

Can be used to attack an enemy from far away, up to 7 boxes. As shooting gives only one-sided damage to an enemy, if used well it can cause an enemy great damage. But be careful, as RM is minimally effective in close combat (when attacking an enemy in the next box). Buying RM from Mr (merchant) will change INF to RM.

AR (archers)

Can attack an enemy up to 5 boxes away. Though the shooting range is less than that of RM, AR is nonetheless essential for defense. Buying AR from Mr (merchant) will change INF to AR.

LNC (lancers)

Ability is average, with a range of up to 6 boxes. Their cost is low and are very useful when many soldiers are needed. Buying LNC from Mr (merchant) will change INF to LNC.

INF (infantry)

These units do not require money since they are collected through enlistments. Though the weakest unit, without INF the fighting force cannot be increased by just buying weapons, regardless of how much money a territory may have, therefore INF is a very important unit. They are the basic force to increase the other units.

15. MAIN LORDS WHO APPEAR IN THIS GAME

Kyoto, the capital of ancient Japan, is in Yamashiro. 400 years ago, Kyoto was a special place for all Japanese Lords because it represented the finest in culture and society. Also, after subjugating all enemies, it was the place where the lords would go to meet the Emperor and be proclaimed the Shogun of Japan.

SHINGEN TAKEDA He is the hero in this game. After he removed his hostile father, NOBUTORA, he became the lord (daimyo) of Kai. SHINGEN was brave and prudent, and not only good at battle, but wise in politics and economics. SHINGEN then conquered territories one by one with his army. Unfortunately, in 1573, at the age of 52, he died on an expedition to the capital, Kyoto, with his dream of unifying Japan unfulfilled. He was praised as the “strongest and wisest general in the age of wars”.

KATSUYORI TAKEDA He is one of the other heroes in this game. He was the fourth son of SHINGEN and inherited his father's position after his death. He was unyielding and good at battle, but didn't have as much political skill as his father. In 1575 he lost the battle with the great riflemen of the unified army of NOBUNAGA ODA and IEYASU TOKUGAWA. After that, his army lost power. Seven years later, NOBUNAGA ODA attacked again, finally bringing down the dynasty of the TAKEDA family.

UJIYASU HOJO He defeated 80,000 enemy troops with 8,000 men of his army. He was a brave general in many battles, cool and controlled. People in his territory contributed to the "Golden Age" of the HOJO family. He is also famous for making the impregnable Odawara Castle. His son was unable to carry on in his footsteps.

KENSHIN UESUGI He was the strongest rival of SHINGEN. The "Battle of Kawanaka Island", which he fought with SHINGEN five times for Shinano territory (North Shinano in this game), is one of the most famous battles in Japanese history. He attracted many people because of his cheerful and charitable nature and went to war mainly as a religious crusader. His successor was an adopted son.

MOTO IMAGAWA He is one of the most famous lords in the age of wars. In 1560, on the way to taking 25,000 soldiers to Kyoto, he was killed by a surprise attack of 4,000 members of the NOBUNAGA army. He had a high ability as a general, but was disliked for his unforgiving, cruel nature by other people. His son had no military talent to maintain his father's empire.

IEYASU TOKUGAWA He was the son of HIRO (HIROTADA) MATSUDAIRA in the Mikawa region. He spent his childhood as a hostage of the IMAGAWA family. In 1600, he won the big battle of Sekigahara which divided Japan in two. His self-controlled and patient attitude lead to his success. He was the founder of the Tokugawa Shogunate, the longest in Japanese history.

NOBUNAGA ODA His aim was to unify Japan with his intelligent and aggressive nature. His success was due to his foresight to use the rifle which was not widely used at that time. On the battlefield, his cruel but brilliant tactics made him among the most popular generals of Japanese history.

THE IKKO SECT A Buddhist sect that aimed to contribute to the country through religion, and had a strong influence on each region, including Kaga. The Ikko sect sometimes collided with the lords. NOBUNAGA ODA especially had several clashes with the Ikko sect.

General LI and WONG Ming is the People's Republic of China today. It is not a historical fact that the MING army attacked Noto in Japan. It is only for this game, to make a fictitious situation.

16. Hints

- 1) The CAV. who is 2nd only to HDQ in close combat, is a very effective weapon against the enemies RM and AR, because of the latter's weakness in close combat, which is due to weak armor.
- 2) Some castles have BLIND SPOTS, which are areas in which the defenders of the castle are unable to inflict damages upon the attackers. These BLIND SPOTS are located adjacent to the corners of the castle. It will be to your advantage to use these BLIND SPOTS, when laying siege upon a castle.
- 3) Stay away from territories with a more powerful rank, especially if their HDQ is considerably stronger than yours.
- 4) Use your territory or territories that the enemy is unable to attack (for example, a territory that is surrounded by other territories you control) as a base for the supplying of troops and money to your endangered ones.
- 5) The Mountain Ranges (thick white lines) are impossible to cross, therefore the bordering territories are of great strategic value.
- 6) Make alliances with the strongest neighboring territories. This will enable you to concentrate on your weaker enemies.
